

Security Alarm Technician

Due to our continued success, we are enlarging our field team. Scan is a fast growing Long Island Security Company seeking an experienced full-time Security Alarm Installation and Service Technician. Scan Security has been protecting the Hamptons for over 38 years. We provide residential and commercial security services to high value customers, offering burglary alarm, interactive video, remote grounds control and guard patrol services. Come grow with us!

Security Alarm Technician Qualifications

- Experience in servicing and inspecting security alarms (knowledge of Honeywell Products a plus).
- Self starter and able to work independently with minimal supervision.
- Having a clean NYS Drivers License is highly desirable.

Security Alarm Technician Responsibilities

- Perform preventative maintenance on security alarm products.
- Perform alarm installations.
- Troubleshoot and resolve issues on alarm systems including ground faults, shorts, opens and unconfigured devices.
- Exhibit professional appearance and conduct in accordance with established company standards.
- Able to communicate well with customers and work well with co-workers.
- Perform all work assignments safely and timely.
- Work on a rotating "Emergency on Call" schedule.

We offer market competitive compensation, health, dental, vision plans and paid time off. Other benefits include 401K w/company match, mobile phone allowance and company paid training.

We believe we have a unique culture and it's something we really pride ourselves on. While we work hard, we understand the importance of recognition and fun! Throughout the year we host exciting, team building quarterly events to celebrate you and all of your hard work! Along with our events, we contribute to different charities, and have a company running group, who participates in 5k's and marathons.